As baby boomers with minimal computer skills your Happy Wanderer ET and C laptop product was the ideal custom build package to take on our long awaited trip around Australia. While we knew it would meet our predicted needs, including entertainment and practical programs and devices such as the GPS, we were dreading having to learn how to operate the beast. We were skeptical that your customer support services would be able to cope with our technological phobia, low level of skill and fading memory or recall abilities. However we have been pleasantly surprised by your thorough and patient telephone support from the day the laptop arrived all set up and ready to go. Not only have all our questions been answered but also arising problems have been solved using step by step procedures, explained without all the techno speak jargon.

How refreshing to deal with a company that actually phones back when they say they will- not just once or twice but whenever you need them to. Our thanks, Corrie for the outstanding service,

I have been using the Happy Wanderer ET& C laptop for about 3 to 4 months including a few off road trips in the Flinders Ranges I also use the Ram laptop stand that Computers' Et Cetera had fitted for me.

I am happy to say that the laptop and stand has held well over my journeys and we are extremely pleased with the ease of use and performance on every feature that the Happy Wanderer provides.

Initially, prior to our purchase I was somewhat hesitant, especially because of my limited computer skills. Of course by now I'm no expert, but with the easy to use instructions and excellent help from the team at Computers Et Cetera I am coming to grips with all the functions, especially the GPS side of things.

I would highly recommend this mobile communications Laptop; the guys at Computers Et Cetra are extremely friendly and as a bonus for computer geeks they actually speak in plain English (makes a pleasant change especially if you've ever dealt with computer technicians).

Testimonials

My Ram Stand needed adjustments to my laptop and Computers Et Cetera were able to do this without any problems. I find Computers Et Cetera's telephone and on-site support for their product second to none.

I am more than happy to recommend and personally talk to anyone who is considering purchasing their extremely innovative product.

TESTIMONIAL

We have finally retired and are raring to see more of this beautiful country, especially the lesser travelled routes. As we are well past retirement age, good navigation is of great importance as a safety consideration. The Happy Wanderer by Computers Et Cetera provides an excellent solution. In addition it allows us all the usual benefits of computer life, such as email communication, telephone (very cheap) calls, research on Internet and Google Earth, downloading our digital photos when our camera memory cards are full, not to mention sending electronic postcards to envious friends and family.

The quiet long evenings in camp can be enjoyed with the added spice of a good film or TV program and essential news and weather forecasts can be instantly available.

Best of all, my backseat driver husband is fully occupied with this toy whilst I am able to drive in peace, with no more disputes as to which turn we took to land us in uncharted territory.

Thank you Corrie and John for your patient and informative help in setting up The Happy Wanderer to our individual needs, and your kind and friendly response to all the questions we have raised. ComputersEtc has an excellent product here, which quietly gives us all we need to remain in the technological world whilst sampling the peace and tranquillity of nature.
